MNHS Copyright and Use Information

All material on the Minnesota Historical Society website is copyright Minnesota Historical Society unless otherwise indicated. It is for the personal use of students, scholars and the public. Copying or redistribution for commercial gain without permission of the Minnesota Historical Society is prohibited.

The nature of historical archival collections means that copyright or other information about restrictions may be difficult to determine. Whenever possible, the Minnesota Historical Society provides information about copyright owners and other restrictions in the catalog records, finding aids and donor records. The Minnesota Historical Society provides such information as a service to aid patrons in determining the appropriate use of an item, but the legal determination ultimately rests with the patron.

Images, footage and other content reproduced from the collections of the Minnesota Historical Society are for viewing, research and personal use only. Permission for commercial use or any publication, manipulation, display or distribution must be pre-approved by the Minnesota Historical Society.

Permission and license to use reproductions from images in Collections Online can be obtained by using the e-commerce system, clicking first on the "buy" button next to the image. For collection images not in Collections Online, permission and license to use photographic reproductions is granted via a Request for Permission form \(PDF\). Permission for using moving image footage, sound recordings and other non-image collection materials is handled using format-specific paperwork. Contact the Reference Library for more information.

Many — but not all — uses of Minnesota Historical Society materials will incur licensing fees.

Conditions of Use:

1. Possession of images, footage, or other content duplicated from the Minnesota Historical Society collections does not constitute permission to use it.
2. Permission and license to reproduce, publish, broadcast or display a Minnesota Historical Society image from the Collections Online system must be obtained electronically through that system. For images not in Collections Online, permission and license must be requested in writing, using this Request for Permission form \(PDF\). For other types of materials, permission and license must be requested in writing; contact the Reference Department for more information.
3. Permission is for one-time, one-project use only. Minnesota Historical Society retains all rights to images, footage or other content duplicated

IN COPYRIGHT

PRINCIPLES OF STATEMENTS

---

- ▶ SIMPLE
- ▶ FLEXIBLE
- ▶ DESCRIPTIVE
- ▶ ACCURATE (Did I say ACCURATE?)
- ▶ TRANSPARENT

GOALS FOR IMPLEMENTATION

- ▶ Don't add any new rights - rights should reflect the original/source material
- ▶ Remember as cultural heritage institutions, we are in the business of sharing our collections widely; we are not collection gate keepers - we are collection stewards
- ▶ There isn't always a definitive answer. Many factors may contribute to determining the rights statement you assign to a given object. There may be more than one right answer.
- ▶ As long as we are making the effort to be as accurate as possible, that's our goal.

IMPLEMENTATION GUIDELINES FOR DPLA NETWORK

- ▶ URIs will allow us to easily populate the display with data from the linked data endpoint. If URIs are included, no other information is needed by DPLA
- ▶ Data included in a distinct field means we can easily find it. This means it is in:
  - ▶ a property not used by any other data, or
  - ▶ a specific instance of a property that is used multiple times (i.e. first or last)
- ▶ If you are using CC licenses instead of a standardized rights statement they will be handled the same way URIs are.
- ▶ We can still handle your local rights statements, however these CAN'T contradict your standardized rights statement.
