

Subject Analysis & Access Section 2019-2023 candidates' profiles

Name	Title	Institution	Country	Brief summary
Lia Contursi	Head of Cataloging	Columbia Law School Libray	United States	As cataloger I have always nurtured an interest in subject analysis and all issues related to controlled vocabularies. Shortly after joining the American Association of Law Libraries (AALL) as law cataloger in 2007, I took the opportunity to be part of the AALL Editorial Group that was cooperating with the Library of Congress at the compilation of the LC Law Genre/Form terms. The vocabulary was finalized and issued by the Policy and Standard Division (PSD) in 2010. Shortly after the conclusion of the law genre project, I joined the effort of the SAC Subcommittee on Genre/Form Implementation, contributing to the compilation of the LC General Genre/Form Terms later issued by PSD. I was then elected AALL Liaison to the ALA Subject Analysis Committee where I served from July 2014 to July 2018. This role offered me the opportunity to better understand and report about issues related to the application of subject headings and the application of the newest Library of Congress faceted vocabularies.

---

Drahomira Cupar	postdoctoral researcher	University of Zadar, Croatia Department of Information Sciences	I started to work at the University of Zadar in 2007 as a teaching assistant on subjects dealing with subject indexing and classification which led me to the topic of my doctoral thesis. I defended my thesis in 2013 titled Modelling of diachronic aspect of meanings of classification numbers in Universal decimal classification system (mentors: Professor Mirna Willer and Professor Maja Žumer). In the last 11 years, I participated as a member of Croatian and international professional organizations and institutions dealing with topics of information organization, subject indexing and access, and classification. I am the elected president of the Classification &amp; Indexing Commission of the Croatian Library Association for 2018-2020 and the member of the International Society for Knowledge Organization (ISKO –UK). I act as a Working group convenor in an ongoing project for ISO: Revision of ISO 999 standard – Information and Documentation – Guidelines for the content, organization, and presentation of indexes. I publish papers and participate in national and international conferences, seminars, workshops by presenting various topics from the field of knowledge organization. I am interested in standardization and hope to have an opportunity to make some progress in the area of subject indexing in Croatia.
Stanislav Golubtsov	Head of Cataloguing Department	The National Library of Russia Russian Federation	I'm the Head of Cataloguing Department in the National Library of Russia. I work in this sphere since 1991. I am the participant of development of the Russian communicative format of representation for authoritative / standard records. (The Russian UNIMARC/Authorities option) and I took part in the procedure of the first UNIMARC translation in Russia in 1998. I'm also the participant of the national project for subject headings in the National Library of Russia – «Creation of Authority File (RUSMARC format). I took part in the development and adaptation of national regulations to subject analyses and subject indexing. I have an experience in organizing and conducting methodological and educational seminars for libraries of the Russian Federation.

---

Sally McCallum	Chief, Network Development and Standards Office	Library of Congress	Unites States	Detailed knowledge of the automation aspects of subject cataloging according to different subject systems. Interest in seeing some rethinking of subject analysis systems vis-a-vis the tools now available to assist with subject access.
Aida Slavic	Editor-in-Chief, UDC	UDC Consortium	United Kingdom	I work on the maintenance and development of a subject indexing tool (Universal Decimal Classification) used in libraries world-wide. I am also a visiting associate professor at the doctoral studies at the University of Zagreb, teaching subject indexing and access. I authored over 80 papers in the area of subject indexing and am member of the Editorial Board of the Knowledge Organization journal and member of the Scientific Advisory Committee of the International Society of Knowledge Organization (ISKO). I hold undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral degrees in library and information studies and prior to my academic career I worked as a trained librarian specialising in classification and indexing for 10 years.

---